

Caligula Rising

Only one man in town knew all the secrets and still managed to keep the peace In the challenging economic times of 2027 a new world order rules every aspect of life including sexual activity. The sin tax was implemented and made into law in the United States, China, Russia and immediately went worldwide by a United nations vote. Sin City, California is the exception, a peaceful and liberal playground for the rich and powerful, until a spate of sadistic murders threatens the existence of this modern day utopia. Sin City, California and the Sin tax The mobile phone phenomenon completely changed the world in 2027 for the common good. World governments finally found something to agree on. And that was privacy should not be wasted on the masses. Technology now made it possible through mobile headsets to see when its user had last had sex. You were under the radar if you didnt have cellular service but in 2027 everyone was required to subscribe to government run cell phone service, whether the individual needed it or not. Independent start up mobile companies no longer existed, which was seen as a good thing, for a while. Then they all fell under one umbrella company, Mobile-Serv Inc. Users brainwaves, like phone bills, were monitored and if it found you had indeed copulated you were charged on your cellular bill. In the challenging economic times of 2027 The sin tax was implemented and made into law in the United States, China, Russia and immediately went worldwide by a United nations vote. The advantages far out-weighed the cons. The Sin tax raised tax revenues, cut the epidemic of STDs, and stemmed the tide of unwanted pregnancies. It further deterred families from producing progeny by accident which they couldnt comfortably support, allowing social welfare to slowly bankrupt countries. This also was ended. Those who foolishly rebelled against the sin tax were ruthlessly ferreted out by the morality police or middle class neighbors, and jailed, fined or both. There was however a vague uncertainty as to the circumstances that legally allowed a small city in California to avoid the implementation of the Sin tax. It was the only known exception to the rule, at least in America. It wasn't written anywhere to explain the anti-sin tax law that shielded Sin City, California. The explanation, had it been made publicly known, wouldn't have made sense to anyone. Marcus Syne was easily one of the richest men in the world. He was also arguably the horniest male as well. Marcus lived the good life as any billionaire would. His excesses were legendary and so, obsessed with his own good time, the sin tax slipped by him totally unnoticed. By the time he was aware of it, the sin tax had been passed into law and several of his friends were feeling the heat. It took Marcus a year and an army of lawyers to secure the area of California and create the land boundaries then draw up a charter that would form Sin City. It was a bastardization of his own name and a fuck you to the sin tax regulations. Sin City had seceded from the union but it cost Marcus the bulk of his estate. However as soon as the idea of a separate city existing within America's border became known, money flowed in from other billionaires who supported the cause of evading the sin city taxes. It took less than a year for the city to be filled with those who wished to avoid the tax. Unfortunately for many Sin City was not a welfare state. Those who had little money were turned away and the enclave became a haven for the very rich. The problem was that once you were in Sin City although you were immune from the tax, the moment you re-entered society at large, the tax on your sexual libido would pick up where it had left off. Those who lived in Sin city realized they could never live outside of it again.

Yorkshire unveils record low rate of 0.89% 7 hours ago LONDON FLATS 0 Yorkshire Building Society has launched a 2-year discount rate mortgage at 0.89% up to 65% loan-to-value. The product comes with a £1,495 fee, though the society also offers a £995 fee option at 1.05%. James Farrow, senior mortgage manager at Yorkshire Building Society, said: "We are very pleased to offer borrowers the lowest mortgage rate ever available. "The cost of funding has fallen in recent weeks and as a financially strong building society with no external shareholders to satisfy we have the ability to pass this on to borrowers." After the 2-year period the mortgage will revert to the lender's standard variable rate, which is currently 4.74%. Rachel Springall, finance expert at Moneyfacts, said: "It's fantastic to see such low rates on offer from Yorkshire Building Society and the choice between variable or fixed deal will appeal to different types of borrowers. "Those looking for more flexibility over the shorter term may prefer a discounted deal, but those looking for some security could choose the fixed rate. "In such a low interest rate environment it would be ideal for borrowers to consider overpaying their mortgage. As with any option borrowers would be wise to weigh up the entire package before entering any arrangement." The post Yorkshire unveils record low rate of 0.89% appeared first on Mortgage Introducer.
